

packages in sectors such as just-in-time manufacturing, life sciences, automotive, home delivery, high-tech and global parts distribution.

The show offers visitors, an unrivalled networking opportunity within the international express logistics industry. Logistics Business will be exhibiting at this event.

www.cpl-expo.com

LogIntern 2009, Nuremberg Exhibition Centre, September 29th-October 1st.

LogIntern now enhances the FachPack (packaging solutions) and PrintPack (package printing/packaging supplies production) exhibitions for the fifth time, whilst also incorporating the innovative power of packaging intralogistics.

A turn-out of 1,300 exhibitors and at least 34,000 visitors is expected at this year's event. The previous show attracted 141 companies, who not only filled the new day-lit exhibition hall 4A, but a large part of the adjacent hall 4 as well. A total of over 300 exhibitors also showed products relevant to LogIntern in other halls, which attracted great interest among the experts.

Besides the products from the exhibitors, this year's special shows include: LogIDSquare: Logistics – Transport – Packaging with RFID, and many more demos that offer a variety of solutions.

www.logintern.de

Transport-Logistics 2009, Antwerp Exhibition Centre, Belgium. October 20th-22nd.

TRANSPORT & LOGISTICS is a professional platform where managers, decision-takers, academics and specialists in the field of transport and distribution, warehouse and handling and data communication meet.

As a logistics service provider this event delivers a perfect opportunity to do business. The show has evolved into a bi-annual meeting for the logistics sector. During the three days of the exhibition the transport logistics industry gathers in order to network, meet new informal contacts and maintain existing relationships.

In 2007 the event welcomed 9000 visitors, including some renowned decision-makers from a variety of logistics-related industries. The show's organisers, easyFairs who also manage PROLOGISTICS in Brussels, aim to make this year's event an even bigger success.

www.transport-logistics.be

SITL Dubai 2009, Dubai International Convention and Exhibition Centre, November 3rd-5th.

For the international and national communities of shippers, freight carrier and logistics service providers, SITL Dubai offers a unique access to innovative products and services dedicated to procurement, distribution and supply chain of tomorrow.

The event is the place to get the most relevant information about the composition and evolution of markets and the development of their networks. The show will enable access to all the tools required to win in competitiveness and performance in both strategic and operational matters.

SITL Dubai is a must-attend B2B event for all users and suppliers of the freight transport and logistics industry. The event will feature a high quality conference. Hot topics will include RFID in logistics. Logistics Business will be exhibiting at this event.
www.sitldubai.com

Logistica 2009, Jaarbeurs Centre, Utrecht, Netherlands, November 10th-14th.

Once again Logistica gets the European Winter show program off to a flying start with exhibitors and visitors all areas of the logistics sector.

Exhibitors will include logistics professionals from the following industry sectors: Mobile transport equipment: hoisting equipment and cranes, static storage equipment, continuous transport equipment, integrated transport and storage systems, automatic identification systems, packaging machines and systems resources, and distribution.

Simultaneously with Logistica the trade fair ICT & Logistiek (IT & Logistics) is being organized in hall 7. Visitors of this fair can visit Logistica with their entrance badge and vice versa. ICT & Logistiek will be closed on Saturday, November 14.

www.logistica-online.nl

CeMAT Asia (26-29th October, Shanghai), CeMAT India (10-13th December, Mumbai) & CeMAT Middle East (19-21st January 2010, Dubai).

Deutsche Messe's 3 Asian CeMAT events will take the strong brand to new heights. Kicking-off with the well-established Chinese event (probably better to call it CeMAT China as there are already good events in Japan & Korea), which should attract 50,000 visitors, Mumbai will host this event for the first time (having been switched from Delhi), at the Bombay Exhibition Centre. A good way to demonstrate the resilience of India's commercial capital Logistics Business feels. Lastly CeMAT launches in Dubai next year.

www.cemat-asia.com
www.cemat-india.com
www.cemat-me.com